Red School House Hunt Supper.

A good lively interest is being shown in the large hunt supper and dance to be given at the Old Red School House in South Wheelock on Thursday evening, Oct. 14. All the mighty huntsmen with an equally mighty appetite will be on hand and the supper will be served at seven o'clock. A social dance will follow in which all are invited to participate.

Tickets for the hunt supper may be obtained at Bingham's drug store at St. Johnsbury; Dwinell's at Lyndon-ville, and Dole's at Danville. For further information, apply to Captain Buckley or Captain Weed of Wheelock.

All are invited. Come out and celebrate.—Adv.

BIG BOWLING SCORES

Lyle Spaulding Holds The Local Record—Victory For Lynch's Team.

Lynch's team turned the tables on the clerks at the Railroad street alleys last Friday night, winning by the narrow margin of 16 pins. Ora Spaulding chalked up the highest total, 266, as well as the highest single string. The matches which are played every Friday night are drawing good crowds. Lyle Spaulding has established a new alley record on candle pins, rolling 141 in a recent match, while Webb Batchelder's record of 229 for the big ones still holds good. The score:

LYNCH'S
Gorham	71	82	231

To Show World Series Scores.

St. Johnsbury base ball fans will be interested to know that at Lynch's they are going to be given an opportunity to see a real world series. The electric score board which has played the game before hundreds of thousands of people throughout the country in past years is to be given a try-out here. This clever device, which shows the game, play by play just as they are pulled off on the diamond will be installed in the Colonial and beginning Friday afternoon at two o'clock will play the big games until it is decided who deserves the world's pennant. This opportunity will undoubtedly be taken advantage of by many who for lack of time or funds will be unable to visit Boston or Philadelphia. A quarter pays the bills.

ACT ON ADVERTISING

Merchants To Abolish Program Charities—Will Have Secretary From Tuck School.

Nearly 100 members of the St. Johnsbury Commercial club met in Pythian hall on Thursday evening to enjoy a delicious banquet, served by the Pythian Sisters, and to discuss matters of vital interest to every citizen of the town.

Following the banquet President Herbert A. Stanley opened the business meeting. Charles E. Peck, secretary of the club, spoke of the many "fake" advertising schemes and subscription lists to which the business men of the town were induced to contribute, and the amount of money lost thereby annually. He then presented the resolution, which had already been signed by over 85 merchants as follows:

"No member of the St. Johnsbury Commercial club shall give money or merchandise for fairs, sign public subscription papers, or take advertising in anything but regular publications, having a paid subscription list, or purchase anything known as a scheme for the purpose of securing money when there is no value received, unless approved by the executive committee of the club."

This resolution was unanimously adopted. President Stanley then introduced Prof. Alfred L. Smith, of the Tuck School of Harvard N. H., who outlined the work of the institution and their co-operative system of furnishing professional secretaries for commercial clubs and board of trade organizations. The school is composed of graduate students who in their second year are placed as secretaries with clubs of this kind at an expense only amounting to the cost of carrying on the work.

The outline of the plan follows: The executive of the club will be the instructor from the Tuck School, who will take over most of the work of the present secretary but will not take over his office. He might be called the business manager. He will appoint one of his students as assistant, and this man will really do most of the work after the work has been started well. Either the instructor or the student will be in St. Johnsbury at least once a week, usually twice and sometimes more. Most of the clerical work such as correspondence, getting out notices to members or for calling meetings of committees, preparing articles for the press, getting in touch with committee chairmen over policies, working methods and progress of committee work, preparing reports, getting out programs (Continued on page four.)

CAMPBELL CHOSEN

Young St. Johnsbury Attorney To Be Secretary To Congressman Porter H. Dale.

James B. Campbell, attorney, yesterday accepted an appointment as private secretary to Congressman Porter H. Dale at Washington. In addition to his work as secretary Mr. Campbell expects to take some special work in the law school of the George Washington University in Washington.

In this appointment St. Johnsbury as well as Mr. Campbell is highly honored, the position coming to him without solicitation. Mr. Campbell has lived in St. Johnsbury six years, being assistant to the county clerk during that period, and has made a wide and favorable acquaintance with the people of the county. Three years ago he was admitted to the bar and has built up a good practice here.

Mr. Campbell is strictly a self-made young man. He was born in Stowe where he received his preparatory education and then went to the University of Vermont where he graduated in 1909. He came here soon after graduation and took up the study of law with A. F. Nichols and passed his bar examinations with high honor. Aside from his law and court work Mr. Campbell has been interested in politics and has been a successful speaker in the campaigns of the last four years. He was seriously considered as a candidate for state's attorney last year. He has shown such diligence, tact and ability in his work here that his friends confidently expect a very successful career for him in Washington.
